

Everyone dreams, whether we remember it or not. In scripture, dreams play an important role in God communicating with his people. That still holds true today.

This year's HIM LIFE IN THE SPIRIT CONFERENCE will take a Judeo-Christian approach to the practice of dreamwork. First, we will see how dreaming is present in the bible and the early Church, and its roots in scientific and anthropological research. Then, using intuitions from Jungian mysticism and concrete examples from dream practitioners, we will introduce some dream exercises for individuals and groups. Finally, it will become clear that the ability to remember and engage with dreams promotes spiritual growth.

Communities will be invited to consider the pertinence of dreamwork in various ministries, especially spiritual direction. Participants are encouraged to journal and bring at least two of their own significant dreams. This conference is for dreamers and non-dreamers of all ages. It will have application for individuals, communities, ministry and spiritual directors.
